BouMatic takes our gently, quickly and completely philosophy seriously. This lightweight shell provides a new component necessary to achieve the type of milking that dairymen strive to provide their herd.

The LWX00 Shell is modeled after our stainless-steel shell that has been loved by generations

- Cow comfort – Composite plastic material reduces strain upon the animal and keeps her comfortable
- Lightweight – Weighing at only 2.8 ounces, it greatly reduces strain on the operator during long shifts vs the stainless steel shell weight of 6.5 ounces.
- No twisting – With no restrictions or moving parts, the unit is cleaned easily, and will take less chemicals to clean because it does not need to be filled and dumped
- Universal – This shell will work on any BouMatic Magnum or Turbo liner
- Finish – The right amount of texture is in the finish so that the shell is easy to handle
