organization.

This is PDPW.

We grow YOU!

We are caretakers of animals, stewards of natural resources, and producers of the highest quality milk.

Because the science of farming keeps improving, we believe in continuous improvement. PDPW is our professional development organization.

WHY JOIN PDPW?

- Learn new skills and gain knowledge for improved profitability
- Be a part of a huge network of dairy producers
- Offer educational opportunities to others on your dairy to strengthen your team
- Because learning is lifelong
- Because together we do better

LEADING-EDGE PROGRAMS

PDPW provides one-of-a-kind education programs with the very best national and international resources. Our members define and direct the programming schedule, and we deliver the resources and curriculum members need to grow skills, solve issues and increase profitability. Program descriptions and registration are available at www.pdpw.org, or call 800-947-7379 to be added to our mailing list.

BUILDING YOUR NETWORK

PDPW is a network of producers and other dairy professionals from across the nation and beyond. Members represent every type and size of dairy. No matter what idea you are exploring, chances are someone else has tried it and will share their experience with you. As professional dairy producers, we are very diverse in our business practices, yet we share a commitment to our common brand — milk.

SOLUTION-FOCUSED

Sometimes the challenges impacting our dairy operations require cooperation from stakeholders inside and outside our industry. Producers must be at the table contributing to the solution, and in many cases, leading the effort to find solutions. PDPW keeps our members informed so they can speak effectively on key issues. PDPW also facilitates education wherever it will help bridge a gap and pave the way for common sense solutions. Learn more about our industry-leading initiatives at www.pdpw.org.
