Count on us for shared success

Agricultural lenders and financial institutions know their dairy farmer clients are more likely to succeed when they operate with a firm comprehension of financial concepts.

Many of these lending partners will provide partial or full scholarships to producers participating in the PDP Financial Literacy for Dairy program. The "Count on Us" campaign gives lenders an opportunity to support producers who are eager to successfully develop their businesses for today and for generations to come.

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS: Attendees will pay the program costs to PDP upon registration and then present their payment confirmation to a "Count on Us" lender. Scholarship amounts and criteria will be determined between attendees and their lenders.

As of 6/17/24 these partners have confirmed "You can count on us!"
