Why PDP Accelerate?

PDP Accelerate is specifically designed to empower and provide interns in the agriculture sector with the tools they need to excel after college. Interns will walk away with:

- Ability to start a conversation, build rapport with others
- Understand how to utilize technology to their advantage in the job market
- Confident body language to become more "hireable"
- Understanding varying personalities to be a strong team player
- Convey and receive meaningful feedback
- Expanded professional network of peers

Why should your intern attend?

Sending your intern to PDP Accelerate demonstrates your commitment to a culture of continuous learning and development of the next generation of agriculture professionals. This program provides your interns the opportunity to expand their skills and capabilities, while equipping them with the essential tools and knowledge they need to excel in the agriculture industry. In addition, by immersing themselves in a dynamic learning environment alongside their peers, they will return with a renewed vigor as they complete their internship experience.
