Leadership

It's not just about taking charge. It's also about the things you do and say — whether you intend them or not — that develop and lead others. With trainer Michael Hoffman at the helm, you'll learn the ins and outs of several different leadership styles as well as:

- How to assess what's happening and what things need to be done
- How to know when you need to take charge
- How to provide constructive feedback
- Your impact on other people's leadership development and personal growth

Hands-On Labs

Participating in hands-on labs and on-campus experiences is a fun way to learn about the opportunities that await you after high school — there are so many different paths to success. Even if agriculture's not your thing (yet), you can put your talents to work in one way or another in this ever-changing field. Whether you're interested in medicine, sales, IT, food science, marketing, the environment, law, finance, or countless other fields, there's a place for you here.

Together with other attendees, you'll experience:

- A farm-campus tour
- A dairy foods lab
- A lab featuring research in bio-char and its potential in the field of nutrient management

A title doesn't make you a leader. Your impact does.

Michael Hoffman is founder and owner of Igniting Performance Inc., a Dallas-based company that specializes in the skills of sales, customer loyalty and leadership. Michael's highly interactive style, contagious personality and unique delivery cements his experiences in the minds of attendees.
