

WORKSHOP PRESENTERS

Dr. Gerard Cramer, DVM, DVSc, has been an Associate Professor at the University of Minnesota since July 2013. He graduated from the University of Guelph with his DVM in 2002 and completed his DVSc thesis in 2007. Prior to joining the University of Minnesota faculty, he owned a veterinary practice focused on providing bovine hoof care, consulting and research services to the dairy industry. Dr. Cramer splits his time between educating veterinary and graduate students and researching hoof health.

Karl Burgi is founder of the Save Cows® Network companies and has served the international hoof health industry for 34 years. As a hoof care provider and hoof health consultant, he collaborates with industry leaders around the globe to minimize lameness and foster animal well-being by facilitating hoof health educational programs and seminars. He also continues to develop hoof care equipment and products to service the needs of modern dairies while ensuring cow comfort is the top priority. Karl's personal passion and business mission is to Save Cows®.

Roger Olson is a dairy account manager for Zinpro Corporation, working to prevent lameness and counter hoof-health issues on dairies across the entire Upper Midwest. Roger has also been involved with a number of dairy-related patented inventions over the years, including Shredlage™, a corn-silage processing technology purchased by CLAAS. Roger and his wife Jody have owned and managed a 1,200-cow dairy with high production and very low incidence of lameness. They live in Hammond, Wisconsin.

2021 HOOF HEALTH WORKSHOP

step ahead with healthy cows

- 9:30 a.m. Registration
- 10:00 Training begins
- 3:45 p.m. Workshop concludes

Lameness plays a major role in a cow's ability to be productive and profitable.

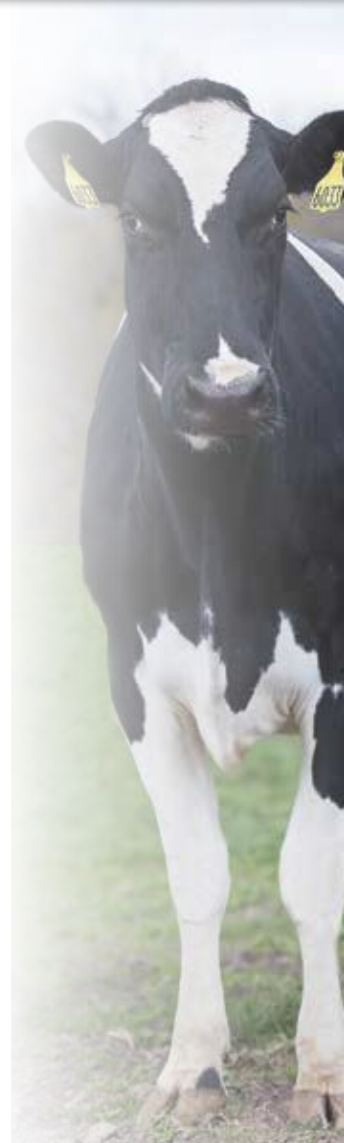

This interactive workshop will present each host farm as a case study for you to observe the farm's hoof health records, facility design and potential risk factors. Expect rich discussions with presenters, hoof trimmers, fellow dairy managers and other cow experts as you identify the most important hoof health issues and discuss practical strategies to address them.

In addition to developing a hoof health program based on the herd's needs, you'll:

- Pinpoint common risk factors from the cow's environment
- Identify cow and chute-side prevention, treatment and protocols for chronically challenged cows
- Connect the dots between sound hoof health records and the ability to identify trends, manage progress and monitor hoof care programs to ultimately impact the dairy's bottom line
- Discuss practices that create continuous improvement in hoof health to reduce the strain lameness places on cows and team members and learn best practices to stop lameness in its tracks.

Step ahead with healthy cows
